1. Enhancements

1.1 Email Tool Enhancements

For better usability, the Email tool has been enhanced as follows:

- Previously, when adding email recipients by importing a CSV file, if the CSV file contained a recipient's non-primary email (instead of his/her existing primary email in the system), then the email would only be sent to the primary email address. Now, the email is also sent to non-primary email addresses in the imported CSV file.
- For email addresses that are imported from a CSV file, the unsubscribe link in the sent emails now functions correctly. Once recipients click the unsubscribe link, they will no longer receive any emails.

1.2 Transfer to Group Enhancements

To reduce confusion when transferring a swimmer to a new group, the People > an athlete > a registration > Transfer workflow has been enhanced as follows:

- On the Transfer page, the previous Fully refund current group, then recharge the full price for transfer to group option has been replaced by a new Transfer options section with the following options:
 - Turn on proration: when this option is selected, the current group is partially refunded and then the prorated price of the new group is charged. For example, when transferring from Group A ($100) to Group B ($200) halfway through a billing cycle, the consumer is refunded $50 (half of the Group A price) and then charged $100 (half of the Group B price).
 - Turn off proration: when this option is selected, the current group is fully refunded and then the full price of the new group is charged. For example, when transferring from Group A ($100) to Group B ($200) any day before the next billing cycle, the consumer is refunded $100 and then charged $200.
 - No refund/charge for this transfer (not available for waitlist transfers): when this option is selected, there is no refund or charge at the time of the transfer. The price of the new group will be charged from the next billing date and all discounts will be carried over by default.
